INTRODUCTION

“Quest Speakers of the Year” is a flagship event organized by Quest Finance Club with the objective of encouraging students to enhance their public speaking and communication skills. The event was designed with the belief that observation is one of the most effective ways of learning. Through this platform, members were given the opportunity to witness and learn from some of the best speakers representing different faculties of Quest International College, including BBA, BHM, MBA, and BCSIT.

To ensure equal participation and representation, the club initially conducted an open audition round for all interested students. The selection process was designed in a way that at least two participants from each faculty would qualify for the final round. After the completion of auditions, a total of 11 students were selected to give their speech (English & Nepali) in the final round, which was held on Baisakh 25.

Following the finalization of participants, the organizing team created introductory videos featuring each speaker and revealing their respective speech topics. For many participants, this was their first experience facing a camera and presenting themselves publicly, making it a valuable learning opportunity beyond the event itself.

INTRODUCTION

To further boost participants' confidence and create a comfortable environment, the club organized a tea session one day prior to the main event. The session brought together participants, hosts, and the organizing team with the aim of promoting networking, interaction, and self-confidence so that speakers could deliver their speeches more effectively during the final event.

During the final round, all participants delivered their speeches in front of the audience and reviewers. Constructive feedback was provided to each speaker to help them improve their presentation and communication abilities. At the conclusion of the event, all participants were awarded certificates of appreciation in recognition of their effort and participation.

In addition, the club also arranged for the speeches to be uploaded to its YouTube channel so that individuals who could not attend the event physically would still have the opportunity to watch and learn from the presentations.

EVENT MANAGEMENT

The event “Quest Speakers of the Year” was entirely planned, managed, and executed through the collective effort and dedication of the core team and members of Quest Finance Club. From the initial planning phase to the successful completion of the program, every responsibility was handled internally by the club members, making the event a significant learning experience for the entire team.

The organizing team was actively involved in every stage of event management. This included creating and managing application forms, generating leads and participant engagement, approaching judges and reviewers, conducting audition rounds, and coordinating the final event. Members also took responsibility for shooting promotional and introductory videos, editing content, and publishing it across different platforms to increase outreach and engagement.

In addition to the technical and promotional aspects, the club also focused on participant experience and confidence-building activities. Pre-event sessions, such as the tea session organized for participants, hosts, and the organizing team, helped create a comfortable and encouraging environment before the final speech event. Similarly, post-event activities, including uploading speeches to YouTube and expressing gratitude to participants and supporters, reflected the club’s commitment to professionalism and appreciation.

EVENT OUTCOMES/CONCLUSION

“Quest Speakers of the Year” became a valuable learning experience for both the participants and the organizing team of Quest Finance Club. The event provided practical exposure to how professional events are planned, managed, and executed while also helping the team understand the challenges involved during the process.

Despite balancing studies, assignments, work, and club responsibilities, the members successfully managed the event through teamwork, dedication, and effective time management. The successful execution of the program greatly boosted the confidence of the core team and proved that the club is capable of organizing even bigger events in the future.

For participants, the event created an excellent platform to showcase and improve their public speaking skills. The feedback from reviewers, live speaking experience, and uploaded speech videos on the club’s YouTube channel became both a learning opportunity and a lifelong memory for the participants.
